Guía de Emergencia ante la presencia de ICE

La Constitución de los Estados Unidos protege a todas las personas, independientemente de su estatus migratorio. Si agentes de inmigración (ICE) llegan a su hogar, usted tiene derechos.

¿Qué hacer debo hacer si ICE toca mi puerta o me detiene?

1.MANTENGA EL SILENCIO.
Bajo la 5.ª Enmienda, usted tiene derecho a no declarar. No responda preguntas sobre dónde nació, cómo entró al país o su estatus legal.

2.NO FIRME NADA.
No firme ningún documento sin que un abogado de inmigración de confianza lo revise primero. Podría estar renunciando a su derecho a ver a un juez.

3.Si llegan a su casa, NO ABRA LA PUERTA.
Usted no tiene la obligación legal de abrir a menos que los agentes tengan una Orden Judicial (Warrant) firmada por un juez o un tribunal. Una orden administrativa (como la I-200 o I-205) NO les da permiso de entrar a su casa sin su consentimiento.

4.Si dicen tener una orden, pídales que la pasen por debajo de la puerta o la peguen a la ventana. Revise que tenga su dirección correcta y la firma de un juez.

IMPORTANTE: NUNCA diga ser ciudadano americano si no lo es; decirlo falsamente y mentir le descalifica para obtener una residencia americana en el futuro, y hay extremadamente pocas excepciones a la regla.

Manténgala cerca de su puerta o en su cartera. Si ICE llega, NO hable; simplemente entregue esta tarjeta o deslizela por debajo de la puerta.

Emergency Guide in case ICE tries to detain you

The United States Constitution is here to protect everyone, no matter their immigration status. If agents from Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) show up at your door, remember that you have rights.

What should I do if ICE comes to my door or pulls me over?

1. DO NOT SPEAK
Under the Fifth Amendment, you have the right to keep quiet. It's best not to answer questions about where you were born, how you got into the country, or your legal status.

2. DO NOT SIGN ANYTHING
Make sure to have a trusted immigration attorney look over any documents before you sign them. You might be giving up your chance to see a judge.

3. If they come to your house, DO NOT OPEN THE DOOR
You don't have to open your door unless the officers have a warrant that's signed by a judge or court. An administrative order (like I-200 or I-205) does NOT allow them to come into your home without your permission.

4. If they say they have a warrant, ask them to slide it under the door or stick it on the window. Make sure that it has your correct address and a judge's signature.

IMPORTANT: Always be honest about your citizenship status; NEVER claim to be an American citizen when you're not. If you do so, It can prevent you from getting a Green Card later on, and there are very few exceptions to this rule.
